Call for a production residency in 2017-2018 / visual artist

The Cirva (International Glass and Visual Arts Research Centre) is a contemporary art centre located in Marseilles, France.

It is dedicated to research, development and production, and is equipped with an impressive range of glass working equipment, allowing the creation of one-off pieces and small series.

Established in 1983, the centre welcomes artists who wish to use glass in innovative projects.

Through this residency, the Cirva aims to further develop its mission as a centre of art and production dedicated to international contemporary creation, whilst supporting artists in all stages of their work, from research to exhibition.

The Cirva offers a research and production residency to a visual artist on the basis of a proposal for a project outlined in a written proposal.

The selection will be based on the following elements (which must be supplied only in digital format):

- A file on the artist's work, containing pictures of works and/or exhibitions, with an accompanying statement.
- A proposal for a project primarily based on glass, but which could also include other elements or materials.

NB: Both these documents will be taken into consideration for the selection process.

Technical team

In order to carry out his/her research and production, the artist will work with a team of four glassmakers, as well as a workshop coordinator.

Additional information about the residency

During the residency, the artist may be requested to present his/her work in meetings organised by the Cirva (details to be agreed).

Conditions

- The length of the residency will be determined by the project itself, and by any issues relating to the research phases.
- The residency will be split into several stays, according to the project and the workshop schedule.
- Accommodation: a private studio apartment on the site of the Cirva is at the artist's disposal.
- Glass production expenses paid by the Cirva.
- Travelling costs (round trips from home) paid by the Cirva for each period of residence, on presentation of invoices.
- Food expenses to be paid by the artist.

Project registration deadline: April 30th 2017

Note: send your application BY EMAIL ONLY to residence@cirva.fr

The applications will be studied in May 2017 and the winner will be announced in June.

Periods of residency to be determined with the selected artist, starting in September 2017.
